

Date Monday, 16 March 2026

March 2026

This is the Commission's monthly update for March, providing visibility to the media and the public on our key activities and work underway.

As at 11 March, we are conducting 30 preliminary investigations and 35 corruption investigations. Four of our matters are currently before the courts, and since our commencement 11 convictions have been secured as a result of investigations we have commenced or continued.

Operation Myrtleford investigation report

On 11 March, we published the investigation report for Operation Myrtleford, the investigation into the 6 individuals referred by the Royal Commission into the Robodebt Scheme.

The complex investigation, involving the examination of a large volume of material, including evidence obtained by the Royal Commission, documents produced under statutory notices, and evidence from more than 40 witnesses through interviews and hearings, concluded that 2 of the 6 individuals engaged in serious corrupt conduct, and that the remaining 4 did not engage in corrupt conduct as defined by the NACC Act.

The referrals related to specific events during the development, approval and implementation of the Robodebt Scheme in 2015, 2017 and 2018.

The full investigation report, an executive summary, video statement, Q&A and media release are available on our website.

APSACC 2026 program released

The program for the Australian Public Sector Anti-Corruption Conference (APSACC), to be hosted by the NACC in Canberra from 7-9 September 2026, is now available on the APSACC 2026 website.

With the theme A strategic approach to integrity – culture, systems and accountability, APSACC 2026 will be an in-person and virtual event across 3 days, comprising one day of workshops and a 2-day conference. The workshop program will be finalised shortly.

APSACC is Australia's leading anti-corruption event, attracting industry leaders and experts from across state and territory, federal, public and private sectors, as well as around the world.

To register or for more information, visit the APSACC 2026 website.

Follow us on Facebook

We recently launched our Facebook page, giving us another place to share updates, announcements and key information about our activities with the public.

Our Facebook page joins our LinkedIn and X (formerly Twitter) pages, where we engage with organisations in our jurisdiction and educate the public on our role, functions and frequently asked questions.

Follow us on Facebook.